

DASHLANE PARTNER PROGRAM

Grow your credential security business

Generate revenue by providing intelligent credential security with Omnix™

Data breaches are on the rise, and nearly 70% of cyberattacks are a result of compromised identity credentials, such as passwords*. Dashlane is the credential manager that's simple for security teams to deploy and easy for employees to use, making it the trusted solution for 24,000+ organizations worldwide.

By joining the Dashlane Partner Program, you'll offer the only credential manager that combines password management and credential protection in one intelligent platform — so security teams can see and stop risks before they become data breaches.
